

College of Nursing-Kendall

Dr. Theresa R. Brahim

Dr. Theresa Robinson Brahim received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Florida State University. She obtained a Master of Science in Human Resources and Administration from St. Thomas University, a Master of Science in Nursing from Barry University and an Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner degree from Florida International University. Her doctorate of Nursing Practice was obtained from the University of Miami.

Her background and work experience includes working as a cardiac intensive care nurse. She worked as a psychiatric nurse in South Florida State Hospital assuming many responsibilities and roles in several departments and services; such as Forensic Services, Family Intervention and Substance Abuse Programs, Clinic Nurse, Electroconvulsive Therapy Nurse and Nurse Educator. She was employed as a nursing professor at Miami Dade College; there she provided instructions in psychiatric nursing and in obstetrical nursing.

Dr. Brahim has practiced as an Advanced Psychiatric Registered Nurse Practitioner in outpatient and inpatient settings and in private psychiatric office settings. In these settings she provides therapeutic counseling, psychotherapy, individual, family, group therapy, and medication management for clients with varies mental health issues.

Dr. Brahim's main focus of interest is "Violence prevention for Children and Adolescents." She is developing a violence prevention program to be utilized in school systems. Dr. Brahim is presently employed at Nova Southern Eastern University as the Program Director of the Entry Level BSN program on the Miami Campus.