

Vivia O. Haye, DNP, MSN Ed, RN
Assistant Professor

Education History

Degree	Institution	Completed
Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)	Grand Canyon University	2020
Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)	University of Phoenix	2015
Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)	University of Phoenix	2012

Teaching Interests/Focus

Dr. Haye teaches in the BSN program. She previously served as an adjunct clinical faculty educating, mentoring, and preparing students in various clinical settings in the tri-county area. Dr. Haye is an NCLEX expert and has served in a hybrid/online program instructing foreign-trained physicians to become Registered Nurses. She has previously taught at Kaplan University and the International College of Health Sciences.

Clinical Interests/Focus

Dr. Haye's clinical specializations are medical-surgical, telemetry, and community nursing.

Research Interests/Focus

Her research interest is varied but primarily related to the education of multiple ethnic groups related to preventing chronic diseases. She has written several articles on a variety of topics. Recently, Dr. Haye assisted her colleagues in submitting a poster presentation on case-based learning to facilitate clinical reasoning in a foundation of nursing clinical course. Professional organizations have recognized her work.