Barbara MacDougall MSN, ARNP

Professor MacDougall received her undergraduate degree from University of Miami and her Master of Science in Nursing from Florida International University.

I am a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner. I have held many positions such as a nurse manager, hospital supervisor and staff nurse all in the pediatric area. I have been teaching nursing students for the past fifteen years.

My interest is how students of different ages learn. I have been teaching at Nova Southeastern University since 2005. This is a wonderful place for students and faculty.
